What People Say

"In all my experiences of your presentations, you have shown that you are extraordinarily knowledgeable and insightful. Your content is substantive and meaningful, highly charged with "take home" value. The delivery was crisp and professional, yet electrifying in its effect on audience." — Rex Coryell, Coordinator, The Executive Committee

"Patricia is remarkable! She can give you the essence and principles in a half-hour presentation or an exciting workshop in several hours. Either way, she'll make sure you get value and something practical to take with you." — J Douglas Stewart, PhD, Performance Learning Systems

"I was pleasantly surprised by your fresh approach to the subject. Your psychological approach added depth and went beyond the "do's and don'ts" of most training sessions." — Dan Counigan, Meeting Planners International, MA

"I was highly impressed with Patricia's conversational and personal style. She offered a variety of activities, with meaningful examples that kept my attention throughout the session, including action activities to ensure that we would use the information after class. We want her to keep coming back!" — Dorothy Valentine, Education and Learning Specialist, Harley-Davidson Motor Company

"We found the Ethical Type Indicator to be both introspective and informative – and we really enjoyed your interpretations and personalized answers to members' questions." — Beth Grzesiak, Program Director, Wisconsin Women Entrepreneurs
